

Write On, IRVING BERLIN!

Irving Berlin wrote well over a thousand songs. Some titles were quite funny. Look at the list. Can you pick out the three fake songs titles from the rest of the actual titles?
(Answer at bottom.)

Oh, How I Hate to Get Up in the Morning
Pigtails and Freckles
I Love a Piano
Don't Forget I'm Ticklish
Aesop, that Able Fable Man
Elevator Man, Going Up! Going Up! Going Up!
Cohen Owes me Ninety-Seven Dollars
Count Your Blessings (instead of sheep)
They Won't Believe I Saw an Armadillo
Nothing But Asparagus for Dinner
A Fella with an Umbrella
Herman, Let's Dance that Beautiful Waltz
Anything You Can Do, I Can Do Better
Snookey Ookums
It Gets Lonely in the White House

[The songs about being ticklish, seeing an armadillo, and asparagus for dinner are the fake ones!]

Write On, IRVING BERLIN!

Irving Berlin came to the U.S. as an immigrant. Can you match the immigrants at the bottom with their names and amazing contributions on top?

- Jhumpa Lahiri, Pulitzer Prize-winning author [Great Britain]
- Madeleine Albright, first woman to be U.S. Secretary of State [Czech Republic]
- Albert Einstein, Nobel Prize-winning scientist [Germany]
- Mariana Rivera, ace relief pitcher for the New York Yankees [Panama]
- Levi Strauss, inventor of blue jeans [Germany]
- Gloria Estefan, singer, songwriter, businesswoman [Cuba]

